Reimagining Risk

Value Proposition

Companies operating in and across Africa are faced with a sustained lack of insurance capacity and are often subject to an outsized image of risk on the continent, resulting in higher insurance costs and slower placement speed and project execution.

Africa Specialty Risks is the go-to Captive Partner helping companies de-risk project development capital by alleviating capacity constraints and improving speed to market. A captive insurance company brings risk in house, providing a non-insurance entity with greater control and flexibility over its insurance program and ability to leverage its balance sheet.

ASR's true partnership model, backed by our expert management and market-leading underwriters, includes establishing, managing, and administering the captive, while deploying ASR's own capacity and sharing risk alongside the captive owner. Our unique captive structure proactively lowers total cost of risk, enhancing risk management, financial and operational impact, whilst also turning the captive into a profit centre.
